"He restores my soul . . .
surely goodness and mercy will follow me" Psalm 23

Brothers and sisters, join in imitating me, and observe those who live according to the example you have in us. For many live as enemies of the cross of Christ; I have often told you of them, and now I tell you even with tears..." (Phil 3:17-18)

To pursue God's heart and mission of building a worshipful faith community within the Pottstown area, through good works and home churches; recognizing Jesus as King of the universe, and worshipping Him privately and publicly because He is worthy.

[Worship]

philippians 3.17-4.1

Meditation:

Brothers and sisters, join in imitating me, and observe those who live according to the example you have in us. For many live as enemies of the cross of Christ; I have often told you of them, and now I tell you even with tears.

(Phil 3.17-18)

[The Scripture]

luke 13.31-35

31 At that very hour some Pharisees came and said to him, "Get away from here, for Herod wants to kill you." 32 He said to them, "Go and tell that fox for me, 'Listen, I am casting out demons and performing cures today and tomorrow, and on the third day I finish my work. 33 Yet today, tomorrow, and the next day I must be on my way, because it is impossible for a prophet to be killed outside of Jerusalem.' 34 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often have I desired to gather your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing! 35 See, your house is left to you. And I tell you, you will not see me until the time comes when you say, 'Blessed is the one who comes in the name of the Lord.'" (Psm 118:26)

[Think & Pray...]

Reflection: According to theologian Jon Levenson, (Creation and the Persistence of Evil), "God's offer of covenant is a mysterious and unmotivated decision of God, without regard to the merit or sins of Abraham." The two parties trust in one another without obvious reason, and their mutual faith has formed the blueprint for the Judeo-Christian understanding of covenant to this day.

In his letter to the community of Philippi, however, Paul insists that faith is just part of the equation. He criticizes those who preach safe Christianity, and fail to live its fulfillment; both cross and resurrection, naming them "enemies of the cross of Christ" (Philippians 3:18)

Paul's Lenten journey comes as God sets him free from legalism, freely to act in Kingdom mercy—the Land of the Living.

Soon the strength of that power will be all too real. Jesus knows what waits in Jerusalem. The cross is already in view.

Consider: During our Lenten Desert, are we intentionally "Exodus-ed" into weakness through reliance on God's Spirit?
